the general annual

The '52 ANNUAL is dedicated - - - proudly dedicated - - - to the six wonderful years we have spent as members of good old Wooster High School.

An intangible dedication, you say? We hardly think so, for, as Seniors, we have begun to realize that these are truly "good years". Therefore, we dedicate this book to that part of our lives which we know will remain forever in the classrooms, the auditorium, and even the corridors of Wooster High.

And so - - - Here's to those years, the good years - - - may we never forget them!

board of education

Planning the decorating of school rooms, adding Distributive Education to the high school curriculum, securing a more attractive salary schedule for teachers, and adding a reading school for elementary students to the summer school program— these are a few of the many things which th 1951-52 Board of Education has done this year.

Through the Board's efforts in pointing out the need for more classrooms and money with which to operate, the voters of Wooster approved a new three-mill levy last November. With this money, the Board remodeled a part of Walnut Street school, adding two new classrooms. Plans have also been made to add six classrooms and a teachers' room to the new Layton School building.

With the co-operation of the Wooster merchants and the State Department of Education, the Board succeeded in adding the course of Distributive Education to Wooster High's curriculum. With the help of the faculty a better and more attractive salary schedule has been put into effect.

In 1951, a six weeks course in reading was given to elementary students who have trouble with that subject. This project will be continued this summer.

The continuous program of redecorating in the high school and elementary schools was made possible by the Board of Education.

Mr. H. Don Scott

Mr. Scott, our new principal, came to Wooster from Barnesville, Ohio. He received his B. A. degree at Muskingum College and his M. A. at Ohio State University.

Upon graduation from Muskingum, he taught and coached at the high school in Manchester, Ohio, for two years.

Mr. Scott then entered the Army, where for eighteen months he supervised at Army schools for illiterates. He joined the 82nd paratroopers division and spent four months overseas.

Upon discharge from the Army, he taught at Marysville Junior High School, and then was the principal of Kirkersville school.

Although Mr. Scott is new to the school system this year, he has shown a great interest in both the students and the school.

Mr. D. P. Bodenbender

Although he is superintendant of the whole Wooster school system, Mr. Bodenbender seems to have a special place in his heart for Wooster High. He is never too busy to help and advise the students in solving any problem which might be troubling them.

The Famous Visit Wooster in November

JEANNE CRAIN, who made a whirlwind stop in Wooster, pauses to chat with Principal Scott.

CORNELIA OTIS SKINNER gives Amelia and Scott some tips on her play "Family Circle," in which they starred this fall.

AS JEANNE CRAIN makes her quick exit from the high school she stops to smile at Cameraman Buechner.

TIME	DATA
100	Leaving the graduation dance full of fruit punch and cookies, we boarded ship which was anchored in the gutter on the corner of Quinby and Bowman—(It rained hard!)
115	Glided up Quinby to Gray's Refueling Station where Don, the new owner, greeted us and wished us "Bon Voyage".
200	Sailed down the Killbuck and on into the Pacific.
600	A Weary passenger (William, that is) buried his head in the pillow trying to drown out the sound of "Reveille" played by Dale Meyer, Ship Trumpeteer.
800	Upon strolling to breakfast, we saw Dean Brown, the Sleepy Pirate, being forced to walk the plank by Police Chief Ray Tomassetti.
815	Hostess Donna Calame greeted us and handed us a menu.

student council

The 1951-52 Student Council held regular meetings every two weeks in the high school cafeteria. Each home room in grades 7-11 was represented by one councilman. Each of the two senior home rooms was represented by three councilmen.

The main project of the year was the noon monitor program. The object of the program was to give students entertainment or an opportunity to study during their lunch hour. Council members acted as monitors. They issued passes to study halls and kept the halls quiet for classes in session.

The Student Council also presented the March of Dimes assembly, sold pennant shaped pins, and erected signs for the protection of the lawn.

national honor society

Nineteen years ago the Lura B. Kean Chapter of the National Honor Society was organized in Wooster High School. The Wooster Chapter is an honorary organization with members chosen according to their rank in scholarship, service, and character.

To be eligible for membership, one must be in the upper third of his class, scholastically. He must qualify in the leadership category. Service and character are judged on a point system from votes of students and faculty. A total of fifteen percent during their junior year, and the remaining ten percent during their senior year. During the second semester this year, both the new junior and senior members were elected.

Each spring there is an impressive candle light induction ceremony for new members, which challenges them to strive toward the high ideals of the club. Though the Wooster chapter of National Honor Society does not have special activities, its members are expected to work quietly for the betterment of scholarship, leadership, service, and character in the school.

September came, and the General made assignments for the issues. Staff heads were picked, and plans for the year were set up. The first semester, a two-page issue came out each week, and the second semester, a four-pager every two weeks.

The wheels started rolling, and issues were published, the Homecoming queen was elected and announced in a big issue. Again this year, the General sponsored the queen and her attendants, and rode them to the coronation on a float.

The second semester deadlines came, and new staff members began to get more training toward a job for next year. The Ideal Date was determined and the co-editors with Betty and Bill watched the Roller Vanities in Canton, one blustery Sunday night.

Spring brought an announcement from Columbia Scholastic Press that the General received an "Oscar" for a first place rating in its division.

Press time drew nearer, as registration for the Kent journalism clinic was sent in, and a group of the staff attended the all-day sessions and competitions.

A track queen was elected, choices for next year's staff were made, and the final issue of the General was put on the press.

Editors and copy-readers alike celebrated the end of another year of General publication with members of the Annual staff at an after-publication banquet.

Television stars, singers, actors, "feed backs", radio announcers, writers, and many others make up the membership of WHSV. Mr. Konkle, the adviser, started the radio club four years ago to give Wooster high school students a chance to learn radio technique. Many WHSV members who have graduated from high school are working in radio stations and with radio networks.

This year the radio club gave two assemblies. The fall assembly featured a play which was a take off on Corliss Archer. Such famous personalities as "Dexter" and Dennis Day were portrayed by student members of WHSV. Pantomines, vocal and piano solos, duets, and comedians were also on the program, proving beyond doubt the wide variety of talent in WHSV.

For the spring assembly, the WHSV drama department interpreted scenes from the play The Valiant. A chorus line of well-known WHSV members gave much amusement to the student body.

WHSV in a nut shell is "Wooster Hi's Student Voice."

The Senior Hi-Y, terminating three years of service, dedicated this, their final year, to be the Year of Service to All.

Starting the year with a money-making project, the fellows sold refreshments at the football games. Later with the Tri-Hi-Y, the club participated in the selling of food at the Hallowe'en stand.

The money obtained aided in the service projects which the boys carried out. The collecting of food and furnishing of chickens for Thanksgiving baskets, which were given to needy families, contributions to service organizations, and the donation of trees to the high school are just some of the projects. The money left in the treasury was used in various useful ways.

Plans for the Thanksgiving assembly and choosing delegates for area and district meetings come under business.

Swimming, basketball, volleyball, a hayride, the spring smorgasbord, and especially the Mother-Son banquet were moments of pleasure.

Members of the Senior Hi-Y club are indeed grateful to all who have helped them and they hope that they may have themselves helped others. Small shrubs which will be seen growing at the main and auditorium entrances were planted by the senior Hi-Y of 1952.

"To create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community good standards of Christian character." With this purpose in mind, the Junior Hi-Y club, under the guidance of Mr. Ward Konkle, began its program for the year.

The club's activities began with the selling of refreshments at the Homecoming game; however, one of the most important activities was the handling of refreshments at the home basketball games. In order to live up to the pledge of "clean sports" the Wooster club also engaged in basketball games with the Orrville Hi-Y club. Several evenings of added enjoyment were derived from numerous activities including swimming, roller-skating, and basketball games.

The Junior Hi-Y was represented by Roy Wells at the largest international Y.M.C.A. and Hi-Y convention ever held. The convention lasted five days and was held at Cleveland and Oberlin.

One of the interesting programs sponsored by this club was an appropriate discussion entitled "Why should I go to college?" Another good program was the displaying of a collection of antique guns by a member of the local Highway Patrol.

The Sophomore Hi-Y had a successful first year sponsoring several different projects. Besides selling ribbons during the football season, the club collected old books and magazines for the Apple Creek State Institution. The organization helped in the providing of Thanksgiving baskets for needy families and contributed to various charitable funds including the Tuberculosis, Polio, and Red Cross drives.

clifton layton club

The Clifton Layton Club of Future Teachers of America is made up of sophomores, juniors, and seniors interested in discovering the needs, opportunities, and requirements of teaching.

Through its monthly evening meetings the club strives to inform its members of opportunities and requirements for teaching. Speakers this year included Principal Don Scott, who told of his experiences in teaching in the army, and Dr. George Cooke of Kent University, whose subject was "Opportunities in Teaching." The Wooster club was happy to be entertained by the Orrville Chapter at Orrville and was likewise pleased to play host to the Orrville club at a later meeting at Wooster. Every year the club looks forward to its traditional May Breakfast, which climaxes its year of club activities.

In order to learn whether he will be suited to the teaching profession and to learn in what field he would like best to teach, a Future Teacher must have some actual experience. Believing in this idea, junior and senior FTA members in cooperation with the elementary teachers and Mr. Bodenbender and Mr. Scott again had the opportunity this year to observe and teach in the elementary schools for three half-days.

Many members also had an opportunity for service and obtained some valuable experience when they graded papers, took attendance, and did other work for high school teachers. As another service project, club members ushered at various educational meetings.

The Clifton Layton Chapter of FTA is affiliated with both state and national movements of FTA. For this reason, delegates were sent to the FTA meeting in Cleveland during the NEOTA convention and to the state-wide FTA conference in Columbus in April.

The Tri-Hi-Y holds its meetings the first and third Tuesdays of each month. This year, the Tri-Hi-Y members enjoyed meetings of both pleasure and service.

The annual Big-Little Sister picnic gave new members a chance to acquaint themselves with the club. During the year, the Tri-Hi-Y sponsored such all-school activities as the Christmas Formal, Talent Night, and the Christmas assembly. Two outstanding meetings of the year were the Mother-Daughter Christmas Tea and the Father-Daughter Banquet.

Included among the Tri-Hi-Y's various service projects was the collection of old clothing for the needy. The club also co-operated with the students in the school to collect food for the Thanksgiving baskets and also helped furnish the chickens which were given to needy Wooster families. To finance the year's projects, members sold programs at the football games and plastic towels.

soc and buskin

Another year has come to a conclusion. The Soc and Buskin activities of 1951-52 are now but a thing of the past. The seniors will not be around next year, and it will be the responsibility of the underclassmen to carry on the outstanding character of the organization.

Remember "Family Circle" the winter play . . . about a flighty young girl who thought she was an actress? Amelia Quinby played that part. Then there was Scott Craig, her loving and understanding father. And Terry Solon . . . he was . . . he tried to be the perfect lover.

Never to be forgotten was the spring play. It was a success as usual, and another example of the fine productions that Miss King and Miss Patterson have capably directed at Wooster High.

A couple of one-act plays were given and they were much in demand by organizations throughout the school and city. Remember "Mr. Lincoln's Whiskers?" That was the one in which Miss Patterson's seven year old niece made her stage debut. She was quite a hit, too. Not to be forgotten are two other act-act plays: "Nobody Sleeps" and "Finders Keepers."

senior choir

As the choir leaves their platform graduation evening, having sung for the final time with the '51 - '52 group, there are several seniors who begin reminiscing in their minds about this year in choir.

As the orchestra begins an overture, they think of the fall of 1951, getting the choir re-organized with many new voices and the arrival of six more robes to bring the choir's total to seventy-two. Early in October, the Christmas music arrived and carols came from the third floor in the midst of football season.

As the orchestra goes into the first movement, the seniors remember the Christmas Sing, when Donna Shellenburger, Sallie Shamel, and Floyd Osbourne sang the traditional solos. They remember Phyllis Miracle and Larry O'Brian singing with the choir as a background.

In the second movement of the Symphony for Remembrance, they think of the first rehearsal after Christmas when contests and the spring concert seemed so far away. But contest music arrived and the choir and three ensembles began work toward the Kent competition.

The third movement begins early in the morning, March 29, as the choir makes its pilgrimage to Kent, and wins an all-one, or superior rating, enabling them to go to state competition.

The most brilliant movement of the symphony is the spring concert, as the choir, assisted by the orchestra, presented a climatic passage to this fourth movement, singing the "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

The finale begins Sunday evening when blue and gold robes were donned for baccalaureate, and draws now to a close, with the theme, "You'll Never Walk Alone."

orchestra

Members of orchestra needed a lot of "wind" to trudge the extra flight of stairs up to the music room. But they had the "brass" to do it. They wouldn't have given a "Schilling" to have it any other way.

While practicing for the spring concert, which was presented on March 21, no one could just "string" along with the rest. Each member had to know his own part.

The concert included Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony" overtures from "Much Ado About Nothing," and several novelty numbers. Three seniors were featured soloists on the program. Pat Young, concertmistress, played a violin concerto, by Mozart; Linda Stauffer sang "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" and "The Last Rose of Summer;" and Mozart's "Fourth Horn Concerto" was played by Noel Franks.

The orchestra put forth a "concert" ed effort at the annual music contest and brought back honors to the high school. A "number" of people who did outstanding work in the district orchestra were chosen for the all-state orchestra at Otterbein.

The orchestra furnished music for each Soc and Buskin "play" and also for the Baccalaureate and Commencement services

Under the able direction of Mr. Richard Schilling, the 1951-52 band enjoyed a very prosperous year. The band not only increased in size, but, for the first time in several years, the Gold and Blue Musicians were led by a drum major.

Through mud, rain, and snow the band worked hard to present halftime shows for six home football games and two away games.

After football season the organization promptly retreated indoors, where they worked earnestly preparing their spring concert.

The climax of the year's activities came when they staged their annual concert on April 25. Highlighting the program were Robert Gibb's "Oriental Suite", Gustav Holst's "Second Suite for Military Band in F Major", and other concert marches and arrangements.

national forensic league

The Speech Department enjoyed one of its most successful years this year. There were several outstanding achievements that made the 1951-1952 season one that will not be forgotten for a long time.

The first contest event this year was the Prince of Peace tournaments. Five people qualified in the local contests to go on to county competition. These were Ann Anderson, Charlotte Lightfoot, Janet Zollinger, Josephine Uhl, and Roy Wells. Previously the Wooster peace orators proved their ability in a warm-up contest at Massillon Washington High School

The underclassmen debaters were successful in bringing home Wooster's first trophy of the year. Sue Isch, Irma Kreider, Dave Smith, Charlotte Lightfoot, sophomores; Ann Liston, Sue Rice, Gracie Beers, and Lee Patterson, freshmen, were the participating students.

At the first individual events tournament January 5, Wooster again took top honors. The tournament was held at Canton McKinley High School, and was sponsored by Canton Lehman High School. Ten Wooster students placed Wooster first at the contest in sweepstakes. Many won individual honors also, as seven first places were given to Wooster contestants. Carolyn Reasor and Sue Halderman placed first in dramatic; Marlene Petty, Dave Smith, Roy Wells in extempore; and Josephine Uhl and Charlotte Lightfoot in oratory.

At the largest debate tournament ever held in this district, Wooster debaters won third place with an "A" and "B" team record of ten wins, and only two losses. Nancy Orahood, Roy Wells, Marlene Petty, Vic Dix, Dave Smith, Tim Solon, Sue Isch, Stu Wright were the honor winning students.

Thirty-four Wooster speakers came in second to sixty-eight Massillon speech students at the second individual events tournament of the year at Massillon. Sue Isch in extempore, Sue Halderman in dramatic, Charlotte Lightfoot and Tim Solon in oratory, copped the top honors for Wooster at that contest.

The annual Cathedral Latin tournament was next on the schedule. This contest is one of the most looked-forward-to of the practice contests of the year. Wooster's speakers again brought honor to WHS by placing fourth in thirty-nine participating schools. Sue Halderman was the only Wooster contestant who won individual recognition. Sue placed first in dramatic.

February 9 was a big day for both individual event students and debaters alike. At Alliance, Wooster's debaters placed third, while the individuals, not to be outdone, placed third at the tournament at Wadsworth.

Maintaining their average the debaters again placed third at the cross examination debate tournament at Massillon. This tournament was the only one of its kind during the year aside from district NFL competition for state and national qualification.

These practice tournaments were to prepare the Wooster students for the real test, and Wooster came through with flying colors in the two preliminary district contests. Wooster was host to the Ohio High School Speech League contest. At this contest Wooster placed seven people for state berths. Jerry Footlick, extempore, Edna Dix, dramatic, and Tim Solon, oratory, received first places, qualifying them for state. In debate competition, Wooster beat out its old rival, Massillon, to place them in state competition. Nancy Orahood, Marlene Petty, negative, and Dave Smith, and Roy Wells, affirmative, were the winning debaters.

At the NFL district at Massillon Washington High School, Wooster placed four more students for state berths, making a total of eleven. This was one of the largest representations at state for any one school. John Haun in humorous, Ann Anderson in oratory, Sue Halderman in dramatic, and Janet Zollinger in original oratory, completed Wooster's list of state competitors.

On the week-end of March 14-15, Wooster speakers competed for national berths at Columbus. Jerry Footlick, Janet Zollinger, and Sue Halderman were in the finals in individual events. Jerry placed fifth in the state in extempore, Janet, sixth in original oratory, and Sue, third in dramatic. The debate team copped the state championship, bringing home the much coveted Brush-Moore trophy. This was the first time that this area has received this trophy. Reaching the quarter-finals, Nancy Orahood and Marlene Petty defeated Ravenna. Then Dave Smith and Roy Wells defeated Louisville in the semi-finals, showing that team work is a necessary element in any type of competition. Nancy and Marlene defeated Lorain in the finals, winning the State Championship for Wooster. This is the first time in ten years that Wooster has been the state debate champs.

Exercising its power to challenge for national entry, the "B" division debate winner, North Canton, challenged Wooster's winners. On Monday evening, March 17, at the Taylor Hall, Socially, the club was also more active this year. The annual Christmas formal held at the Bowman Street Auditorium proved a great success. Speech season closed with the Annual ninth grade tournament held here May 10, 1952.

club des francais

"Parlez-vous Francaise?" Oui, the students of French club speak French very well. (Or so they think!)

The first meeting of French club was held down at the City Park last fall. The French students, along with the other language clubs, had a picnic supper and ended the evening with songs.

At Christmas time, they partied down in the Club CoEd with a buffet supper and games. During their class periods, they learned many French Christmas songs.

The sale of tax stamps enabled both the junior and senior classes to buy new textbooks as well as record albums by such French artists as Jean Sablon and Edith Piaf.

Farewells to the seniors were said at the final meeting in May.

Manana wasn't soon enough for the busy Spanish Club muchachas and muchachos this year. Very soon after the beginning of school the senior students welcomed the new Junior members at the annual fall picnic.

Senorita Marie Anita Hudson did most of the important planning for the gala Yuletide dinner to which the club invited members of the French and German clubs. The evening was climaxed by Santa Claus breaking the Pinata, which showered down gifts for all.

Club members got well acquainted with life in Spanish speaking countries by viewing Senor Alberto Pitman's interesting slides and listening to Senorita Janis Glasgow's account of her trip to Mexico.

The year was climaxed with the Senior Farewell Picnic which was held in the spring.

romana societas

The Sophomore Latin Club, which consists of seventy-five members and their adviser, Miss Griest, planned two big meetings during the year.

At the Christmas party, an entertaining program was given. Several members portrayed Roman gods and goddesses and a Roman wedding was enacted. There was a gift exchange and refreshments were served.

The organization helped the members to understand and to appreciate the Latin Language.

Labor omnia vincit. Nihil sine labore.

societas romana

Societas Romana, or the Freshman Latin Club, was very active the past year under the guidance of its adviser, Mrs. Joss, and president, Nancee Johnson.

At the November meeting a play showing the wanderings of Ulysses, written by Gracie Beers, was presented. For the Christmas project the members contributed baskets of food and presents for two welfare families. The main social event of the year was a Roman banquet with Roman foods and customs. Other meetings included movies, slides, and a Valentine dance.

A committee composed of Beverly Fry, Nancy Koontz, Nancee Johnson, and Lee Patterson drew up a constitution which is to be followed by future Latin clubs.

The Steno Club was organized last year under the name of Scratch 'n' Scribble with Miss Gwenneth Foss as adviser. This year the junior secretarial girls were invited to become members and the combined group was reorganized under the name of Steno Club with Miss Foss and Miss Kathryn Sheedy as advisers.

The purposes of the club are to gain a better understanding of the position of secretary, to discover the various types of secretarial work, to develop a pleasing personality in dealing with people, and to become more efficient workers. The members also learned some of the things that would be expected of them by their employers.

The meetings were held in the girls' homes to create a more informal atmosphere. Miss Nancy Henry of the high school principal's office and Miss Ruth McConahay of Lightning Rod and Mutual Insurance Company were among the guest speakers. A panel discussion and reports were given by different members of the club. Among these were correct dress for a job, correct telephone manners, and the importance of creating a pleasant attitude toward customers by one's actions. Movies on correct office procedures were shown. A Halloween party and a May Tea honoring the seniors were among the social events.

The senior girls worked in various offices in Wooster on a project for a period of four weeks. The actual job experience proved beneficial and they learned many things on the job that they could not have learned in the classroom. Most of the girls were retained as permanent employees of the offices in which they worked during their project, and for all girls, it provided a contact for future employment.

Some other projects worked upon during the year were typing for teachers, clubs and organizations, school offices, school newspapers, the Annual, high school P. T. A., Bowman School P. T. A., Wooster Booster Club, Wayne County Mental Hygiene Association, and the Wooster High School Athletic Council. The training also included work on the hectograph, mimeograph, and the dictaphone.

future homemakers of america

The Wooster chapter of Future Homemakers of America is a member of the state and national FHA organization. The purposes of the club are to promote an appreciation of the joys and satisfactions of homemaking; to emphasize the importance of democracy and creative leadership in home and community life; to promote international good will; to provide wholesome, individual, and group recreation; and to further interest in home economics.

One year of home economics is required to become a member. This year more than sixty girls interested in learning more about home economics and the homemaker's part in her community joined the club.

The club had various activities for the year's program. A joint Christmas party with FFA was enjoyed. In February, the advisers and several of the FHA girls attended the Bi-County Rally held at Millersburg. Joan Varns from the Wooster chapter was elected President of Bi-County for the coming year. Fourteen girls received the Junior Homemaker's degree. The club sold plastic bags and had candy sales as projects to make money. In March, the club had a joint skating party with FFA. Two senior girls and one junior girl were sent to Columbus to attend the State Convention April 25 - 26. One senior—Betty Poulson—received her State Homemaker Degree. The club ended its activities for the year with a formal installation of officers and a mother-daughter banquet.

future farmers of america

The purpose of the Future Farmers of America is to develop agricultural leadership, co-operation, and citizenship in the farm boys of America. The motto is:

Learning to do, Doing to learn
Learning to live, Living to serve.
—William Groseclose

The total membership of the Wooster chapter of the FFA is thirty-seven with twenty-one chapter farmers and sixteen "greenhands" or new members. The boys have ninety-five projects, seventy-two productions, and twenty-three improvements.

The FFA club participates in many local, district, and state activities and contests. Jim Yarnell received the title of State Farmer last year. Bill Graham, this year's president, is also District president and placed second in District Public Speaking. Bill Weary and Dean Brown attended the National Convention at Kansas City, Missouri.

The Wooster chapter again this year took first prize with an exhibition at the State Fair. David Maurer received a scholarship to Ohio State University, College of Agriculture. Members receiving the County Farmer degree are Dave Maurer, Bill Graham, Jim Mowrey, Dale Ring, and John Redick.

Since its inception in 1947 under the sponsorship of Mr. Floyd Maurer, the Filmbreakers club has proved to be a great asset to the educational facilities of the high school. Many teachers use this service and have expressed appreciation for it.

Under the supervision of Mr. Maurer the films are shown with a minimum of trouble. The projectors are in use almost every period of the day. Because of the valuable equipment which they use, the operators must be dependable and capable. To give the new members experience, they learn under the guidance of experienced operators. Although most of the work of the club is done within the school, club members have shown movies at meetings of both church and community organizations.

Meetings of the club are held during the extended home room period on Wednesdays to discuss problems of mutual interest.

The purpose of Junto is to teach club officers how to run their meetings more smoothly. During the meetings motions are made to illustrate, study, and practice parliamentary procedure.

The members have an amusing time making and carrying out unusual motions. A typical rule passed was to stop the clock before school to prevent classes from starting.

Membership is composed of presidents of the high school organizations, NFL members who have achieved Degree of Distinction, and a limited group which is voted on by Junto members.

Practicing parliamentary procedure in Junto helps to prepare NFL members for Student Congress, which goes into session every spring.

freshman girls' ensemble

The newly organized Triple Trio was under the direction of Miss Constance McPherson. The group consisted of nine freshmen girls, three first sopranos, three second sopranos, and three altos. Loretta Conrad accompanies the group.

They first practiced one period each week. They sang at the Community Good Friday Service and on a broadcast over WWST, as well as many other church and civic meetings in the community.

The Junior Red Cross started the year by launching a membership campaign. The result was one hundred per cent enrollment of the high school. The big project of the year was the treasure chest. This chest consisted of various articles for home and school use, such as towels, washcloths, rulers, volleyballs, first-aid kits, pencils, and paper. The Junior Red Cross Council took various ways to raise money for the chest: a candy sale, a bake sale, and contributions from the students.

girls' chorus

Under the direction of Miss Constance McPherson, fifty freshmen were initiated into their first year of choir work. The organization was promptly called Girls' Chorus.

The group appeared in the Christmas Sing and at the annual Choral Concert in May. On the High School Hour over WWST, they presented two broadcasts.

The uniforms worn by the girls were white tailored blouses and black skirts. For the spring concert the girls donned formals.

D E C A stands for the Distributive Eduction Club of America. In this class, merchandising and other important selling factors are discussed and explained by Mr. Joe Porter, the instructor. The course offers two credits in exchange for the four hours a day given to the class. The first two periods of the morning are spent in Room 64 in class work. The last two hours in the afternoon are spent in a store selling. If a student does not have a job, the D E C A places him in a store. Many of the business men in town are contributing to the club. The club has members in Freedlander's, Buehler's, Kaser's, Nick Amster's, Snyder Camera Shop, Jewel Box, Walker's Shoe Store, Bond's Shoe Store, Woolworth Five and Ten, Newberry's Five and Ten, and Frank Wells Drug Store. At the end of the year the students collected money through candy sales. With this money they showed their appreciation to their employers by honoring them with a banquet.

The 1951-52 Colonel Staff has tried its best to issue the paper regularly.

The paper consists of these sections: Boy and Girl of the Week, Gossip and Humor, and Sports. Each issue featured a different drawing on the cover.

The Colonel sponsored two dances this year: one was a Sadie Hawkins Square Dance; the other, the Spring Dance.

football memories

Queen Betty Brown reigned over the entire football season. Here she is surrounded by various scenes which, although not the game itself, help to make football truly great. Clockwise from Betty:

1—Cheerleaders Sally Wells, Donna Kay Vickers, and Marilou Ackerman give their all during a game but go unnoticed by blasé Jerry Footlick in background.
2—A scene from one of the after-school pep rallies.
3—The crowd tensely watches the Dover game. The gay blue and gold caps make a colorful scene.
4—Vic Dix, Bob Wilson, and Ed Lindsay help to feed the hungry crowd.
5—Queen Betty, assisted by Jo Smith, Booster Club Prexy, serves cake to the cheerleaders.

booster club

Let's go! Let's fight! Let's win! The job of the Booster Club is to get bigger and better cheers from the student body. The Booster Club strives not only for more cheering but also for better support of all the athletics of the school.

This year the Booster Club increased its membership in order to secure more and better ideas for boosting the school spirit of the students. The Booster Club staged four pep rallies for the football team. Two of these pep rallies were bonfires. This year the club also tried to emphasize basketball and the other sports. The sportsmanship at basketball games increased as the year slipped by.

The big social event sponsored by the Booster Club was the annual Homecoming Dance.

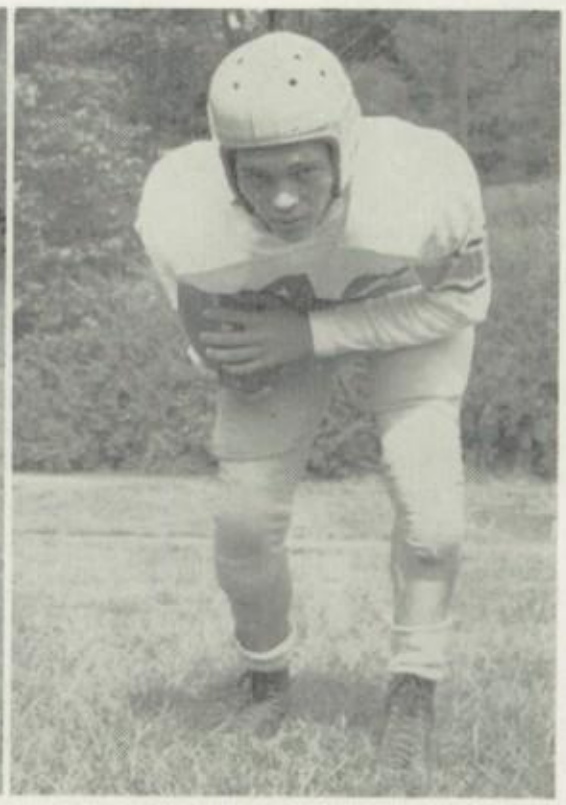
CHARLES CARMICHAEL

DON DAUGHERTY



CARL DAUGHERTY

CHARLES "SONNY" CARMICHAEL

A deceptive halfback, Charles "Sonny" Carmichael was a consistant ground gainer. Winning his first football letter last year as an end, he was switched to halfback and soon proved his worth as a runner. "Sonny" also won his letter this year.

DON DAUGHERTY

Hard driving fullback Don Daugherty was elected one of the Generals' co-captains. Don also played an excellent season as a defensive back and earned his second football letter this year.

CARL DAUGHERTY

Winning his second football letter, Carl Daugherty turned in an excellent performance as offensive and defensive halfback. A tackling artist, Carl squashed many potential touchdown hopes of the Generals' opponents.

BILL GRAHAM

A regular offensive guard, Bill Graham also played a defensive line position. Although it was only his second year out for football, Bill's teammates elected him co-captain of the football squad. He received his first football letter this year.

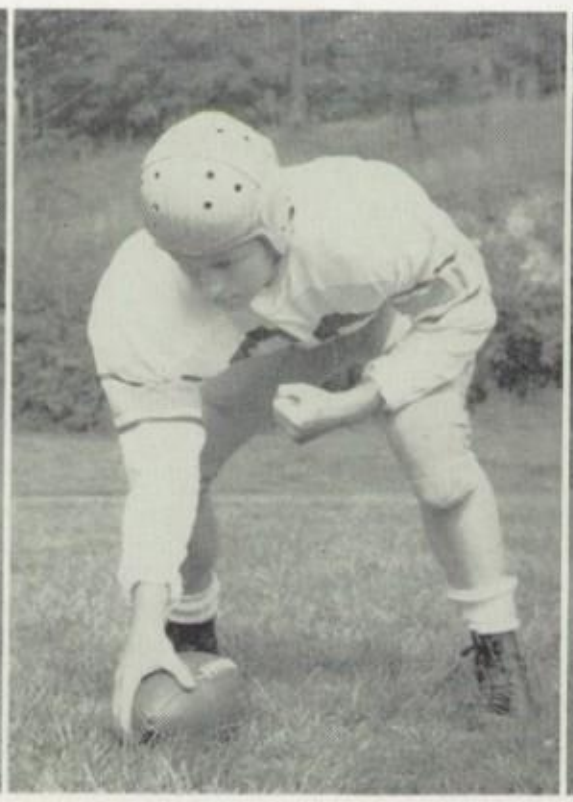
RONNIE MCQUIGG

A two year regular on the Wooster High team was 158 pound senior center Ronnie McQuigg. McQuigg was a regular on both offense and defense all season at center and linebacker position. A top-flight blocker and tackler, Ronnie won his second letter this season.

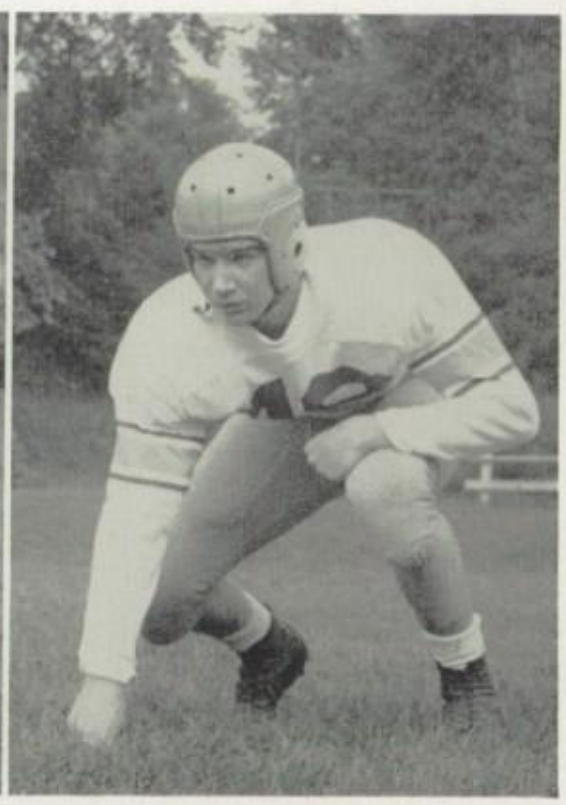
CHARLES HUMRICHOUSER

Charles Humrichouser, a very aggressive player, earned a spot as offensive guard and a position in the center of the defensive line. In spite of a plague of injuries since he started playing football, Chuck proved a valuable member of the Generals as a good blocker and tackler. He won his second varsity football letter this year.

BILL GRAHAM

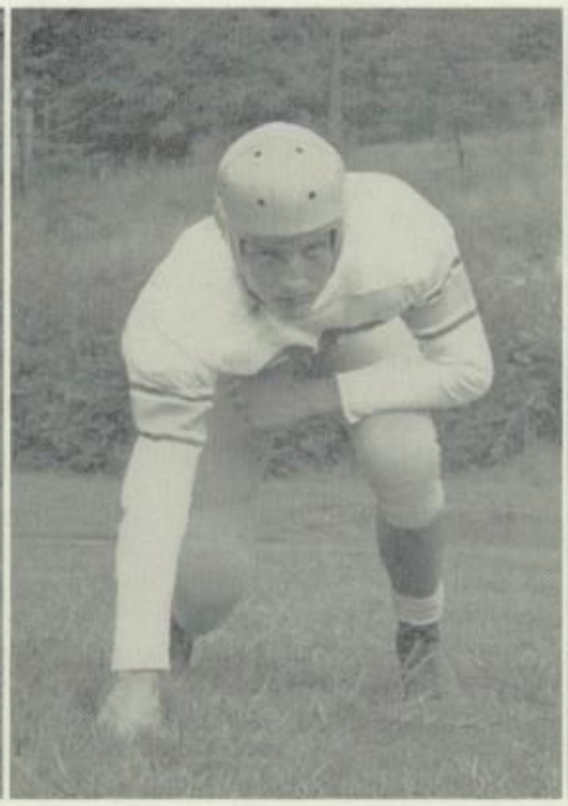


RON McQUIGG



CHUCK HUMRICHOUSER

HAL WARREN



RODNEY JOHNSON

JIM STARR

HAL WARREN

Hal Warren was a regular defensive lineman for the Generals most of the year. Hal played either defensive end or defensive tackle. Injured in the Kent Roosevelt game, he missed only one game of play. Hal was given his first letter this year.

RODNEY JOHNSON

Playing football for his third year, Rod Johnson earned himself a regular end position. He played on either offense or defense in nearly all of the games. Rod received his first letter this year.

JIM STARR

Jim Starr made his first year out for football a successful one. Improving regularly throughout the season, Jim won a regular spot in the defensive line. His hard-hitting, bear-like play enabled him to plug many holes in the defensive line and win his football letter for 1951.

JIM MUCKLEY

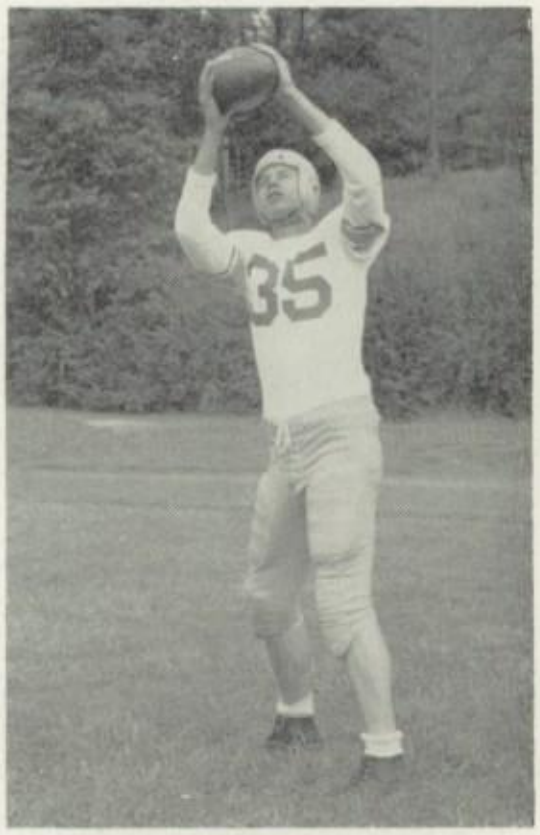
Jim Muckley, 153 pound senior with a superb spirit, won a berth as offensive tackle and defensive linebacker on the Wooster team. In winning his first football letter, Jim turned in a fine season of play.

JIM BROCK

Jim Brock's size was no handicap to him at his tackle position. One of the smallest members of the squad, Jim made up in aggressiveness and fight what he lacked in size. Jim was awarded his second varsity football letter.

JIM MUCKLEY

JIM BROCK



BILL KARDOS

BILL KARDOS

Tallest member of the 1951 football team was 6' 5" Bill Kardos. Bill has been a regular offensive and defensive end for two years. Utilizing his height well, Kardos caught many passes for sizable gains. End-arounds were another speciality of Bill Kardos. He was awarded his letter again this year.

BOB LERCH

BOB LERCH

Charting the Generals' games earlier in the season, senior quarterback Bob Lerch came into his own during the last part of the season. Taking the place in the defensive backfield of injured regulars, Bob turned in an excellent job. Offensively Lerch made the quarterback sneak go for big gains. Bob received his first varsity football letter this year.

varsity football

1951's edition of the Wooster High Gridders compiled the poorest record here for many years. In spite of a record of three wins and seven losses, however, the season was not without its bright spots.

In the season's opener the Tigers from Cuyahoga Falls pushed over a last quarter touchdown to win a close 19-12 battle.

Although the Generals gained more total yardage, had more first downs, and had a first quarter lead of 2-0, Canton South outpointed Wooster 28-6 in the second game of the season.

The following week the Generals traveled to Kent Roosevelt, where they outmanned and outfought Roosevelt 47-7. After a slow first quarter in which Kent took the lead 7-0, Wooster caught fire with seven backs scoring. Don Daugherty was high scorer for the evening with an eighty-eight yard touchdown run and five extra points.

On October 5 Wooster played host to the Dover Tornadoes, who with the help of Elwood's twenty-one points, whipped the Generals 33-7.

The next game was a one-sided defeat of Wooster at the hands of Canton Lehman 46-12.

At Ashland Wooster played one of its best games. The Generals were outmanned but not outfought in their battle with Ashland's undefeated eleven. Wooster was scored on once each period while getting its lone score on a pass to Carmichael in the second quarter—final score 28-6.

With the annual homecoming night as an added incentive the Generals chalked up the Wadsworth game in their win column. Wooster outscored the Grizzlies 34-23 in an offensive battle that proved to be one of the bright spots in the 1951 season.

The Generals hit their peak in the Mt. Vernon game. With some of the worst playing conditions ever encountered at Maurer Field the Generals showed surprising offensive and defensive strength, winning 33-0. The occasion was designated as Mom's and Dad's night and the parents were well-pleased with the showing their sons made.

One of the season's most disappointing games was the upset win over Wooster by their traditional rivals, the Orrville Red Riders. The Generals couldn't get started as the fighting Red Riders scored a 33-14 win.

The Mansfield Madison game proved a repeat performance of the previous week's game as the Generals were defeated by the determined Mansfield High Rams by a score of 26-19.

With many underclassmen on the Varsity eleven, the Wooster High Reserves ended the season with two wins, one tie, and three losses. Mansfield Johnny Appleseed defeated the Reserves in the opener 22-7, but Wooster snapped back to win over New Philadelphia the next week. After tying Ashland 6-6, the Reserves lost to the Seville varsity 20-7. Next the future Generals chalked up Orrville 34-6 for their second win of the season. They completed the year with a defeat by a strong Barberton team 49-0.

The Junior High football team, handicapped by inexperience, won two, tied one, and lost four for the 1951 season. The Colonels' two wins were over the Doylestown Juniors 13-0 and 12-7. Wooster tied Orrville 14-14 in the first meeting but lost the second 21-0. The three other losses were to Massillon Jones 32-0, Massillon Longfellow 41-0, and New Philadelphia 27-6. Bill Strock scored 19 points for scoring honors. Second high was Dick Schafrath with 12 points.

varsity basketball

This year's basketball team completed another successful season with a good 12-5 record. Of these, seven wins and one loss were compiled in Central Buckeye League play to earn the Generals an undisputed league championship. Wooster's lone CBL defeat was an upset at the hands of the Loudonville Red Birds, 54-52, whom the Generals had earlier beaten by a twenty-one point margin.

In addition to the CBL championship, three Central Buckeye League team records were battered by Wooster. Averaging 61.1 points per game in the eight game schedule was an all-time high. By defeating Orrville 85-35 and holding Rittman to ten points in one game, Wooster High now holds the offensive and defensive records for a single game.

Opening the season with a hard-fought win over Coshocton 54-53; and a win over Rittman the following week, the Generals promptly plunged into a three game losing streak. Losses were to Ashland, Galion and Barberton.

Proving their ability to come back, they whipped Millersburg 76-34, and followed with seven straight wins. This eight game win streak was the longest in the school's history.

With four players scoring over 175 points each, the team was able to total 1,000 points for the season. Bill Kardos, captain of the team, led the scoring with 210 points.

The Generals lost their lone tournament battle to a hot Alliance five 72-58.

reserve basketball

With surprising improvement after a poor start, the reserve basketball team tied for the Central Buckeye League championship, making it three titles in a row. Starting the season by dropping five straight games, they ended by winning three of the last four games.

Leading the scoring this year was Phil Franks with 106 points in fourteen games. Danny Frank followed with 59 points in eleven games.

The Wooster Junior High Basketball team caged a perfect record in regular season play again this year. This is the fourth time that Coach Al Johnson has led his team to an undefeated season in ten years as junior high coach. Massillon Lorin Andrews defeated the Colonels in the Barberton Junior High Tournament for their only loss.

Bob Danner netted 146 points to lead the team in scoring, followed by Bill Strock with 120 points.

With only one returning letterman and four seniors on this year's team, the General tankers didn't win any meets. However, the year was far from a failure as underclassmen gained valuable experience.

Starting the season with a loss to Sandusky, the Generals promptly lost the second meet to Fremont Ross. Great improvement was shown in the next meet with Akron South. Wooster lost this meet by a close margin of one relay race. Wooster's next meet against Lakewood showed further improvement.

As it should be, the Wooster High tankers hit their peak at the end of the season at the district meet. Five Generals qualified at the meet for state competition.

The Tankers' future looks bright as many underclassmen formed the nucleus of this year's team.

Completing a successful season last year by losing only two matches, the golf team had their work cut out for them with only one returning letterman this year. The single letterman, junior Cliff Bible, will form the nucleus of this year's squad.

Coach Zuercher's golfers opened their season with Shelby here on April 22. The General golfers met Timken on April 30 for their next meet. Other matches were as follows:

May 5 Barberton
May 6 Canton Lehman
May 22 Shelby (return match)

track

Wooster's thinclads opened the season by winning a triangular meet from Millersburg and Doylestown 75½, 38, 34½ respectively. Wooster lost to their annual rivals Ashland 84-34 followed by a win the following week 84-37½-26½ against Loudonville and Orrville.

With a squad co-captained by Charles "Sonny" Carmichael and Carl Daugherty, prospects for an excellent season look good. "Sonny" has scored more points than any former trackster and also holds the high and low hurdle records. Carl is on the record-breaking mile and 880 relay teams along with a pole-vaulting task. The General cindermen have seven more meets and relays to complete their season. They are as follows:

varsity baseball

Opening the season with a coveted close win over Canton Timken 3-2, the Generals then added a loss to their record as Medina defeated them 6-1. With many underclassmen on the squad and a single returning letterman the Generals still look for a successful season. Don Daugherty, a letterman catcher, Scott Craig, John Buechner and Vic Dix are the only seniors on the team.

With a difficult schedule, the baseballers have tough sledding ahead of them. The underclassmen are gaining valuable experience and will bolster future General baseball teams.

rifle club

The Rifle Club was chartered in 1941 by the Wooster American Legion in order that boys between the ages of fourteen and eighteen might be taught the safe and correct use of firearms.

The club holds its meetings every Thursday evening in the Co-ed room where the members shoot an average of ten rounds of ammunition a night. All materials such as rifles, ammunition, and shooting coats are furnished by the Wooster American Legion.

Members of the club may attain the following ranks: promarksman, marksman, marksman first class, sharpshooter expert, and distinguished rifleman.

The training has proved valuable to former members who are now serving our country.

Rifle Club is directed by A. D. Sigler and Paul McDavitt.

senior gaa sports board

A most vital part of the Senior GAA is the sports board, which is made up of the girls most interested in sports. This year Mary Ann Hudson, the president, planned several interesting events. On March 22, 1952 this sports board was host to Millersburg and Doylestown in a play day which lasted from 9:30 until noon. The sports board also traveled to Millersburg where they played basketball.

These fourteen girls tried to promote interest in GAA.

girls' "w" association

This honorary organization is a group of girls from the GAA who have earned their "W" by securing over 800 points by participating in the various sports.

As an annual event, the "W" girls again exchanged playdays with the "O" girls from Orrville. Besides having a lot of fun, the girls learned good sportsmanship through these inter-scholastic sports.

The top event of the year was the annual Yale-Harvard all-star basketball game, the "W" initiation, and the all-school dance on March 7, 1952. At this time ten new members were taken in to the "W" Associations.

all-star hockey

This year's hockey season was a good one. Since this sport was first on the year's sports agenda, the all-star game was able to be played before snow came. The hockey manager, Marlene Petty, and Miss Syrios had a large group from which to pick the all-star.

The game ended with a victory for the Imps, captained by Betty Brown, over the Peanuts, led by Jan Pritchard. Nancy Orahood of the Imps scored the only goal, making the score 1 to 0.

Something new was inaugurated in the way of competition. After the all-star game had been played, the Hockey Club from the college invited the high school to come up for a game. A special team was picked for this game from the two all-stars. The girls who played and were defeated 2 to 0 were: Betty Brown, Marilou Ackerman, Nancy Orahood, Pat Young, Marilyn Riehl, Norma Jean Angel, Marlene Petty, Nora Gilyard, Sally Snyder, Edna Dix, Connie Arnold, Marianne Hudson, Elaine Stewart.

all-star soccer

Breaking a tradition this year, those who make up the sports calendar decided to have soccer after hockey. This did not dampen the spirits of the girls who came out though. The weather grew cold and the snow flew, but still they managed to dribble that ball down the field. On such a day, Bonnie Parker, the soccer manager, announced that they were about to pick the all-star with captains, Marilou Ackerman and Pat Dunham, getting their choices.

On November 15, 1951, both teams attempted to kick the ball through the goals, but neither succeeded. The game ended in a scoreless deadlock, 0 to 0.

Following the custom, both teams went to Keeney's for an all-star banquet. The all-star hockey teams were also invited.

all-star bowling

The pins flew rapidly on January 7, the night of the all-star bowling meet. Fifty girls were out for this sport. Of these, twelve were picked for all-star according to their averages. The two girls with the highest averages were chosen as captains. These girls were Pam Beeler for Smith and Pat Boyles for Vassar.

Smith was the victor, topping Vassar 1,333 to 1,177. High scorer for Smith was Alicia Crow with a score of 253. Marilou Ackerman of Vassar was not far behind with 244.

all-star basketball

With much shouting and screaming the night of March 7, Yale defeated Harvard by a score of 16-15. Mary Ann Hudson as captain of Yale and Carole McKee as captain of Harvard led their teams through strenuous practices. The game was well-played. Betty Brown of Yale and Katie Tinstman of Harvard were the high scorers with seven points each. After the game, the annual "W" initiation was held. Following this, the "W" sponsored an all-school dance.

This year, as always, more girls were out for basketball than for any other sport. Over one hundred girls played basketball during their lunch hours for three months. Of these, eighty-five were eligible for all-star. Before the game, a banquet was held at The Cabins.

senior gaa all-star swimming

Go! Go! Go! This was the cry heard that night of December 13, 1951. One of the best girls' swimming meets ever to be held at the high school was witnessed by a capacity crowd. Fourteen girls were picked out of fifty possible candidates to swim in the races. Nancy Orahood was chosen captain of Yale; Peggy Stanford, captain of Harvard.

This year three records were broken at the meet. Gail Childers of Harvard broke the underwater record. This record had not been broken since 1947 when Doris Monroe swam it in 15.1 seconds. Gail finished in 14.6.

Yale managed to break the other two records. First, Yale's team of Cynthia Straub, Nancy Orahood, and Ann Shamp, broke the sixty-yard medley record. The former record was set by Eleanor Reeder, Esther Grady, and Donna Johnson in 1949. This year Yale brought the time to 42.5 seconds.

The most eagerly anticipated race was the one in which Cynthia Straub broke her own breast-stroke record of last year. This is the second consecutive year that she has done this. She cut her time from 16.3 to 14.9.

The final outcome of this spectacular meet was in favor of Yale, 45-35.

At the intermission, Connie Arnold and Mary Anne Hudson gave a preview of the aquacade.

"New York Moods" was the theme chosen for this year's Aquacade by the managers Pat Young and Nancy Orahood. The Aquacade was presented on April 30 and May 1.

Approximately fifty girls participated, spending many long hours practicing. Some of the "New York" records which were used for this Aquacade were "Street Scenes," "Harlem Nocturne," "Lullaby of Broadway," and "Manhattan."

There were eleven routines, including two duets, presented. Modern dancers assisted the swimmers in some of the numbers. The advisers, Miss Snyder and Miss Syries. helped the girls during their two months of practice.

Modeled after the Senior GAA, this organization represents the girls in the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades who participate in sports.

Fifty points are given to the girls for participating in a sport, and thirty additional points for those making all-star. Miss Snyder has assisted the girls in many ways.

junior gaa all-star soccer

Every fall the Junior GAA opens its season with that sport which is most like football, soccer. This year there were seventy girls out for this sport under the able management of Sue Brenner. Out of these seventy girls, thirty were picked for the all-star, which was played on November 8, 1951. Ability, sportsmanship, and attendance were the three "musts" for these girls.

The Tucks, captained by Nancy Koontz, were victorious when Nancee Johnson made a goal in the first half. The defeated Nips, captained by Nancy Schaum, bowed to their defeat with good sportsmanship. The final score was Tucks 2, Nips 0.

Following the game the players attended a banquet at Keeney's Cafeteria. At this time the all-stars were honored. The captains expressed their thanks to the managers and to their adviser, Miss Snyder.

The big event of the junior year was planning for and working on the Prom. When at last the Oriental Gardens were complete, the juniors and seniors danced the night away. Carole McKee and Connie Arnold, escorted by Jerry Footlick and Bart Moore, were the lucky junior attendants.

class history

Before boarding the W. H. S. Oriental Gardens after the graduation dance, we all decide to make a last tour through the well-worn halls of old Wooster High School. So we go back to Junior High—the seventh grade. As we enter rooms 101, 102, 103, 104, we remember the two sweater girls of the seventh grade, Miss Cotton and Miss Lake. Ah, yes, Miss Cotton! I bet we were the only Junior High School to have an operetta. "The Pirates of Penzance" starred Dwight Rhamy, Carol Grosjean, and Pat Specht. We were just background music, but it surely was fun. It was this year that someone had the idea to have a Junior High newspaper, and as a result, the "Colonel" was born. The first staff included editor, Elaine Stewart; news writer, Kyra Mosel (remember her?); social writers, Sally Wells and Judy Bechtel Smith; girls' sports, Betty Brown, Marilou Ackerman, and Eleanor Reeder; boys' sports, Jerry Footlick; gossip column, Mary Ann Hudson; feature writers, Ann Anderson, Amelia Quinby, and Terry Solon; art department, Janis Glasgow and Loretta Conrad. The Colonel basketball team was undefeated this year, and Bill Kardos, Jerry Footlick, and Manager Vic Dix got to go to the banquet.

We find ourselves in the eighth grade section passing Mr. Adair's room. Remember the political arguments we used to have with him? He never did tell us whether he was a Democrat or Republican, but we all had our own ideas. What a time we had pleasing Miss Crow, the eighth grade art teacher. It seems that she believed in modernism, and we could never figure out what we were drawing.

As we go up the stairs to the fresh and home rooms, we remember how we felt when we climbed those same steps four short years ago. . . Just imagine, we are freshmen! We had by this time outgrown Club Co-Ed and were now venturing to the "Hole." Having become full-fledged freshmen, we were allowed to go to the Senior High dances and we were really thrilled. All of the kids from other schools came in this year, and many of these were later to become our best friends.

We then proceed downstairs to the sophomore section, where we all go back to our old home rooms to reminisce over the happenings of our sophomore year. Our first class officers were elected this year. They were president, Jim Muckley; vice-president, Rodney Johnson; treasurer, Elaine Stewart; secretary, Connie Arnold, and social chairman, Sally Wells. The music people turn their thoughts to the music room and "Wally." It was his last year and the orchestra and choir showed their appreciation of him by placing first in the state. They will always remember their narrow escape at the Smithville crossing on the way home from the district contest. This was the year that the Generals had their first undefeated season since 1938. Jack Palmer and John Smith were co-captains. Sonny Carmichael, Carl Daugherty, and Don Daugherty were the three members from our class who were on the varsity squad.

Leaving the sophomore home rooms, we continue upstairs where we take our places as juniors, with but one thought in mind, the Junior-Senior Prom. After working and planning all year for this big event, the long anticipated night finally arrived. It came and went with a blaze of glory, for we feel that this was the most beautiful and elaborate Prom ever. We can thank our social chairman, Elaine Stewart, for this, but without the co-operation of the whole class, it would not have been accomplished.

Yes—now we are seniors, graduating as the class of 1952. Ours has been a wonderful class, and although we may say that we are glad to leave, we all know deep in our hearts that we shall never forget our high school days. The many friends we've made . . . the fun we've had together . . . and our teachers who have done their best for us will live long in our memories. All of these things have played a big part in our lives. As we finish this chapter and go on to the next, we shall always hold a place in our hearts for our Alma Mater—and the days of Auld Lang Syne.

ideal date of 1952

Betty Brown and Bill Graham, the Ideal Date of '52, pose for their picture before leaving for their Date. The Date of the Year was held Sunday, March 2.

Bill, who was tops in five of the ten categories, helps Betty with her coat. Betty placed first in eight of the ten divisions.

After viewing the Skating Vanities at Canton Memorial Hall, Betty and Bill enjoy a "coke" at the Avalon. This Date was sponsored by the General.

WHS ORIENTAL GARDENS LOG

TIME	DATA
830	Head Waitress Barb Louttit brought us steaming hot cakes.
831	Hot cakes were cleared away by Roger Carnahan, Alert Bus Boy.
832	Dishes were taken to Dishwasher Jack "the professor" Weber.
930	Donning our gym suits, we proceeded to the recreation deck, where Instructor Katie Tinstman led the girls in a game of checkers.
940	Sonny Carmichael, retired Cleveland "Brown", cracked the whip over Carl Daugherty, Cliff Carwile, and Bob Lerch, World Tracksters, who were loping through the state-rooms.
1000	After heated exercise Head Shark Wilson dived into the refreshing ocean.
1015	Speaking of sharks (card, pool, etc.), in the game room, Croupier Larry O'Brien, Rich Oliver, and Chuck Snoddy were shuffling the deck.
1030	A loud crash was heard aft and Cabin Boy John Gilmor gave the MOB (Man Over Board) signal.
1032	Deck Swabs, Don Hockenberry and Bill Hackett, peered over the side just in time to see the rear bumper guard of Tim Solon's car (which he just couldn't leave at home) slowly sinking into the sea.
1033	Lifeguard Nancy Orahood dived over the side to rescue Safety Director Solon, who was bubbling underneath the right porthole.
1045	Peggy Stanford, Assistant Lifeguard, immediately applied the new system of artificial respiration.
1200	On our way to lunch we bought a copy of the Oriental Gardens Gazette (Publisher, Vic Dix) from Bob Garber, Ace Newsboy.
1230	Captain Al Johnson presided over luncheon while chief Petty officers McIntire and Marlene held up the foot of the table.
1245	Chief Cook (Carol, that is) carried in the one meat ball (all the ex-Cafeteria Kids could afford).
1300	Jan Pritchard, the Bouncer, threw us out for rowdy conduct.
1301	We landed in the boiler room, where we found Dale Trunk firing the furnace.
1400	Stewardesses Donna Martin and Betty Steiner informed us that since we were nearing the equator, we must have a snack of Graham Cracker and Switzer cheese.
2000	We entered the nightclub dressed in our old 1952 Prom formals and were seated by Entertainer, Jo Smith.
2100	We listened to the strains of Torch Singer, Marilou Ackerman accompanied by Noel Franks and his Off-Key Five.
2130	Mingling through the crowd we met Cigarette Girls, Dixie Rumbaugh, Freddie Rich-wine, Barb Bartholemew, and Nancy Allison.
2400	Carole McKee, famed international dancer, led the floor show with her version of the Charleston.
2230	Fortune teller Roni Iannarelli read Connie Arnold's and Bart Moore's palms predict-ing a happy future in the ship's cakeshop.
2300	Larry Litwiller, the Ship's Photographer, snapped the picture of Newlyweds Chuck Humrichouser and Viv (DeLuca, that was).
2359	The first day of our voyage to far-off places ended with the strains of "Star Dust". During the cruise, we hope for the best in the future.

Signed,

Al Johnson
Officer of the Deck

Everything "points" to the fact that "Nobody Sleeps" in Thespian Society. Everyone gets into the "act" if only by up-"setting" the "stage"- (and) "coach." We've even "scene" members in "casts" doing their "part" to make a club a success. The "line" is drawn on members of Soc and Buskin who haven't acquired ten points by acting or back-stage work. Thespian members "make-up" pantomimes, "crews" around getting furniture, and eat everything from soup to "roles" at the Spring Banquet. Members who have earned forty points are then admitted to the "Family Circle" of Honor Thespians. They are presented with pins, while the outstanding actors and crewmen receive special awards. This banquet, with a formal dance following, is the only meeting of the year. The motto of the organization is "Act well your part. There all the honor lies."
